From the Desk of the President

If you have been paying attention at all to the activities of the County Medical Society thus far this year, it should become obvious to you by this time that the goal of our organization is to become more actively involved in the affairs of the community on a positive basis. The community in this sense refers not only to the local community but also in a larger sense to the affairs of the state and national government as well. This does not mean to imply that your Society this year is led by a group of activists, or "rightists" or "leftists". We have not been so much attempting to establish a reputation of being radical or conservative, as we have been trying to establish a reputation of being interested in the affairs of the community and willing to take a part in those affairs.

Such a plan of action is only logical at this time. No longer do we have to fight Medicare, because it is here. No longer do we have to resist third party medical care, because it also is an accomplished fact. The effects of government in our daily life is constantly increasing, and although we may not approve of it, we must face up to the fact that to control it means that we must work with it. The fight to resist government interference is over—the fight to control it is upon us now.

To those members who for many years have felt that the Society is ultraconservative—have nothing but negative attitudes—we should like to offer an invitation to you now to return to the fold and take up the torch. We are looking for youthful vigorous leaders who can aid the Society in its new role of community leadership. We now have active programs in athletic injuries, safety programs—including traffic safety and home safety. Programs in pre-school health, an active and ambitious speakers bureau, an aggressive medical school committee, a well organized civil defense program—to mention only a few.

Ambitious ideas and programs are fine, but it takes interested people to make them work. We hope you will come back and take a look at the "new" Medical Society for only through new blood can an old organization prosper.

Two of our members are leaving private practice and ascending to the summit. Dr. Sam Squicquero and Dr. Bob Wiltsie have been appointed to the position of Medical Director in their respective hospitals.

We, as well as their many patients, will miss these men. However, we may take consolation in the fact that the top medical post in each of our hospitals will be filled by a man who is a dedicated physician and who has "been through the mill" of private practice.

Of all the many problems that medicine faces in this time of turmoil, the ones concerning hospital-medical staff relationship are certainly not the smallest. In many hospitals throughout our country there is too much conflict between administration and staff. This conflict, as is much of the rest of the strife in our world, is basically due to lack of communication. If we can only sit down together and talk we will discover that our basic goal is the same—to give the best medical care we can, and at a reasonable cost.

No one is in a better position to establish these lines of communication than the Medical Director. Therefore it is comforting to know that our new Medical Directors are men who can perform this function well.

We offer Dr. Wiltsie and Dr. Squicquero our congratulations and our wish for their future success. We also suggest that each of us offer them our full support.

From the Bulletin

THIRTY YEARS AGO — JULY 1938

The Medical Dental Bureau and Medical Secretaries Society put on a joint dinner at Southern Hills which was quite a frolic. It really rocked the joint. The Medical-Dental Ensemble provided the music and the Secretaries the dancing. Drs. Fuzy and Hayden made speeches above the din but what really brought down the house was the skit "Consolation" or "Good Night, Nurse" put on by Gertrude Flynn, Naomi Belinky, Gwyn Brown, Mae Craig, Elizabeth Hayden, Naomi Jones, Alice Larson, Martha Smith, Florence Pennell, Margaret Snyder, Olga Westerburg and Blanche Zabel.

M. H. Steinberg was trying to revive the old custom of having a ball game between the two hospitals at the annual picnic. They tried it a while but there were too many injuries.

John Renner, E. H. Young, Paul Fuzy and M. E. Conti were away taking Post-Graduate work. Dr. Joseph Keogh returned from New York to do chest surgery.

New internes that year were Herbert Hutt and Eugene Bennett.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — JULY 1948

On July 4th 1948, private practice and voluntary hospitals in England and Wales became history. On this date the government instituted a new tax on the people, the national Minister of Health took over the physicians and the hospitals with their plants, property, endowments and liabilities.

The Bulletin took notice of the sad event in a factual, obituary-like article.

No meeting of the Society that month. President John Noll urged the members to get caught up with their medical journals. At the staff meeting of the Mahoning County Tuberculosis Hospital, Dr. M. M. Yarmy gave a paper on "The Care of Diabetes."

Many of the doctors were away on vacations. Renners declared that it was a good time to sample their product.

TEN YEARS AGO — JULY 1958

President Detesco gave some rules to the doctors who testify in court:

Take to the courtroom the same high standards of responsibility you apply in your practice.

Establish the court's confidence in you by the dignity and modesty of your dress and bearing.

Strive to present your testimony in terms that are clear to everyone.

Testify only on matters you are qualified to discuss.

Inform the court of all pertinent facts, whether favorable to the patient or not.

Maintain an attitude of impartiality no matter what direction the trial is taking.

Observe the inviolability of your patient's confidential disclosures whenever possible.

Never engage in acrimony during cross-examination.

Yield to the judge's superior knowledge and wider experience regarding legal questions.

Robert Foster was recovering from a spinal fusion operation.

Editor Morris Rosenblum said, "It is most unusual to see the rebirth of interest in the Society by the members." . . . The last meeting of the Society was a dandy, everyone who wished had an opportunity to express his views. Now that we have decided to give free polio immunizations in our offices let us do a good job and show the public that we are interested in the prevention of disease.

Both physicians will discontinue their private practices in order to take over the new positions.

LETTER

Mahoning County Medical Society
Gentlemen:

I have recently been appointed by the Speaker of the House to the Legislative Service Commission's Study Committee on Medical Service Payments.

This committee will conduct a study of the causes for delay in reimbursing professional people and hospitals for services provided recipients of state welfare.

If you are experiencing such delays, I would appreciate your giving me, in writing, some specific illustrations, so that our committee can study them and — hopefully — speed up payment to you.

Sincerely,
Walter H. Paulo

DR. FOSTER RETURNS FROM VIETNAM

Want to know what it's like in Vietnam? Ask Dr. R. M. Foster—he was there! Dr. Foster has resumed his practice after a two-month tour of duty as a physician under the AMA Vietnam program.

He reports that the work he did there was similar to that which he is doing in Youngstown, except that the causes for broken bones are different, being mostly a result of shells and gunfire.

He was stationed at a 450-bed state hospital located in Rach Gia in the Mekong Delta. The hospital treated mostly civilians, and some South Vietnamese casualties. He reported that medical supplies were available and that the hospital was not overfilled.

Although the general area in which the hospital was situated was often infiltrated by Viet Cong, and American physicians were urged to remain inside their building on many instances, Dr. Foster was only fired upon once, and that was when he was on a river trip to treat patients.

Dr. Foster reports that he felt that he was of help in Vietnam, where there is a shortage of physicians, but that he is still unsure as to what the war is all about.
